Village of Islands

In the Florida Keys

Sportfishing Capital of The World

WELCOME TO ISLAMORADA

America's Tropical Paradise

Catch the fever. . . Islamorada island fever, that is. When you've eased into our slower pace. . . when you stay barefoot all day and feel the sun warm you right down to your toes. . . when gentle sea breezes require a soothing nap. . . and when you forget there's another world. . . you've caught it, in fact, you've got it bad!

Islamorada's tropical paradise has tempted generations of visitors to abandon the stress of mainland life for the charm of the islands, and they return year after year to relax on our golden shores and drink in the natural wonders of the Keys.

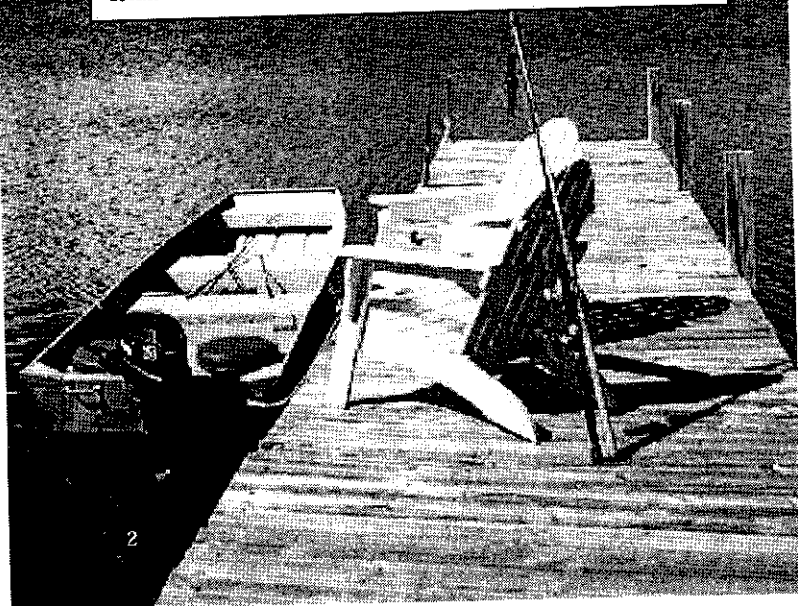

But besides ultimate relaxation, Islamorada also offers boundless recreation with diving, boating, swimming and, of course, sportfishing. See all that Islamorada has to offer with this helpful guide.

Welcome,

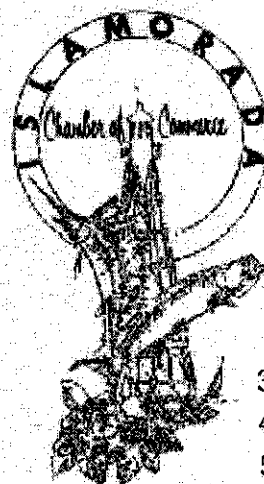

We've designed this unique guide to help you get the most from your visit to paradise in the Florida Keys. Visit our Red Caboose for detailed information and direct telephone lines to some of our local businesses. Find the Red Caboose Visitor Center at mile marker 82.5 on the bayside of US 1. We hope to see you soon.

Sincerely,

Nancy Whitney, Executive Director

DINING ISLAND—STYLE

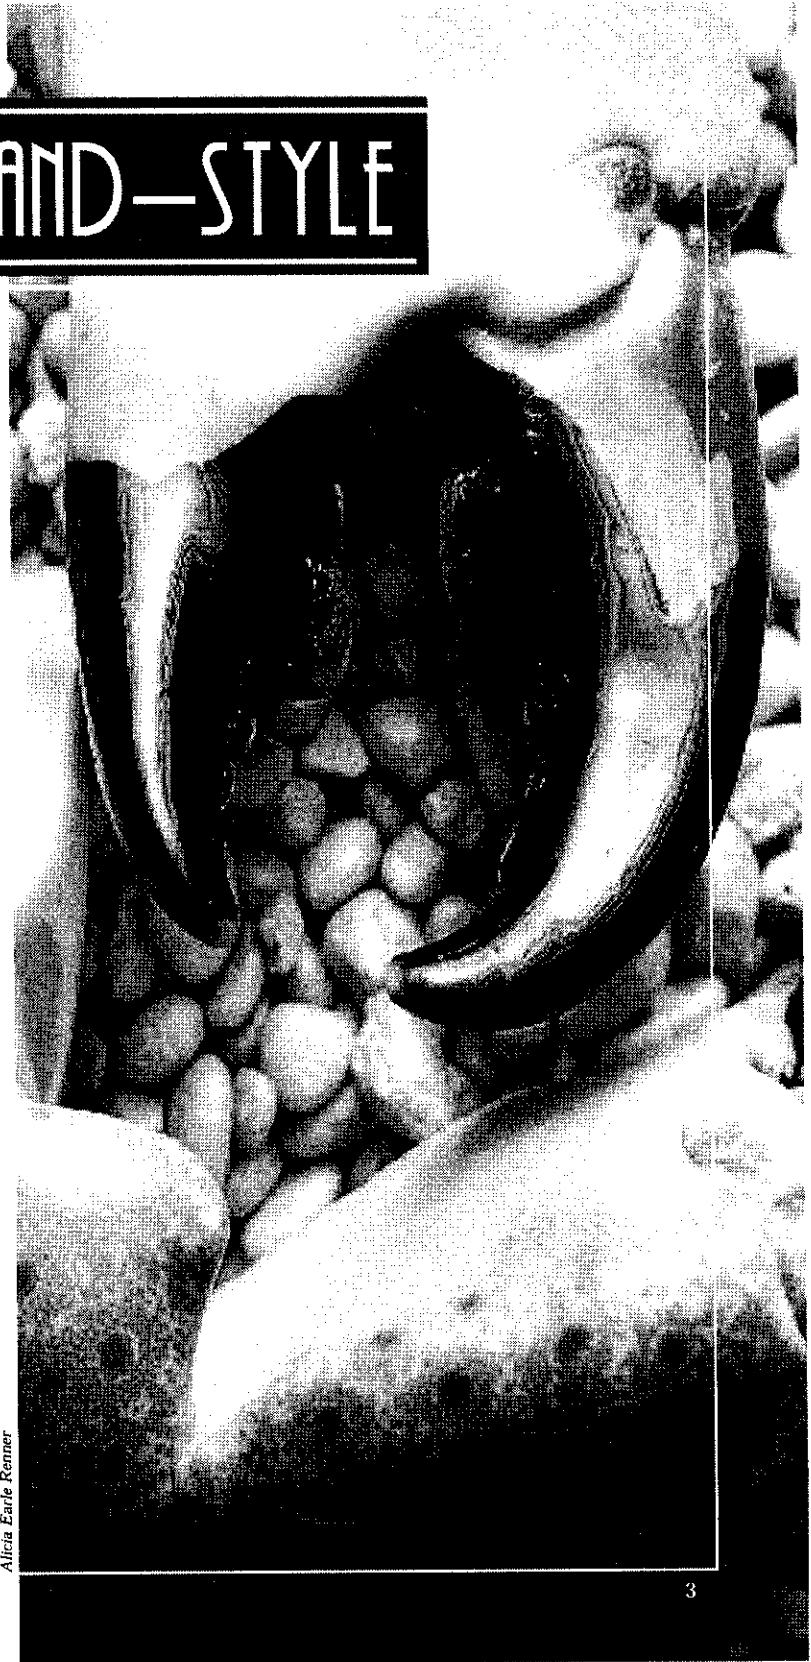

With our bounty of fresh seafood, it's not surprising that Islamorada restaurants create their menus around the catch of the day. Mix ethnic influences with talented chefs and what emerges is a cuisine unlike any other in Florida. Islamorada restaurants have a history of wonderful food and spontaneous, let-your-hair-down kind of fun. Sun-baked visitors, celebrities and locals rub elbows in Islamorada's unique dining establishments. You'll find elegant, four-star restaurants serving award-winning creations as well as casual, old Florida-style eateries that set tables at waterside and serve up delicious local favorites not found elsewhere. Outdoor dining is a way of life here, where balmy breezes and colorful sunsets set a romantic mood any night of the week. Be like the natives and feast on delicately flavored grouper or yellowtail cooked to your mouthwatering delight. Experience local specialties like stone crab claws or conch, a chewy shellfish served in chowder, as deep-fried fritters or in salads. Our lobsters are clawless, but no less delicious than the Maine variety you may be accustomed to. Local menus may also feature snapper, swordfish, amberjack, pompano, deep-sea scallops, clams, gulf shrimp and blue crab.

There's no better dining anywhere!

Alicia Earle Renner

Come explore Islamorada's exquisite shores and extensive eco-systems. You'll find our islands offer a natural beauty unlike any other destination. The Keys' unique subtropical location and remarkable geology create an abundance of world-class parks (see page 21 for a list of our parks) and noted wildlife habitats. With an unrivaled multitude of sanctuaries and reserves, as well as the only living coral reef ecosystem in the continental United States, Islamorada and the Florida Keys are unrivaled for exciting nature experiences.

As a stopping point for migratory birds on the Eastern Flyway, Islamorada's bird population includes many West Indian species. Our islands provide some of the only nesting sites for the great white heron and the white-crowned pigeon. These are breeding places also for the roseate spoonbill, the black-whiskered vireo, the mangrove cuckoo and the reddish egret.

One of the thrills of visiting our island is hand-feeding wild silver tarpon or sighting our playful dolphins. They are smart and sociable and seem to enjoy entertaining humans with their antics, sometimes providing a free show in the wild. Visitors will find many opportunities to observe these friendly creatures up close, learn about their habits and experience a unique pleasure – a swim with the dolphins.

NATURAL SPLENDOR

LEGENDARY FISHING

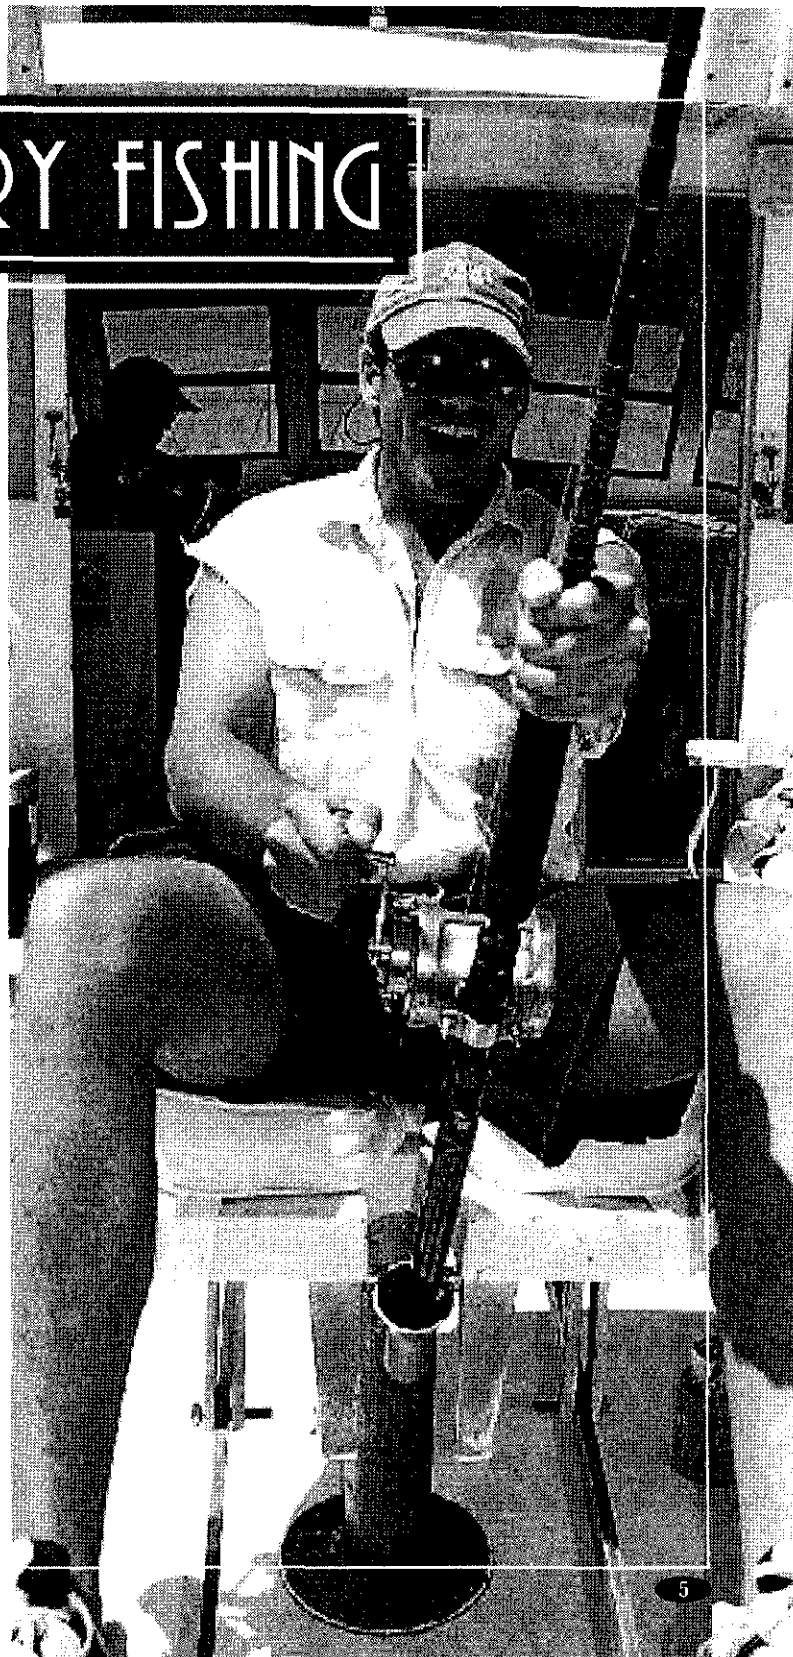

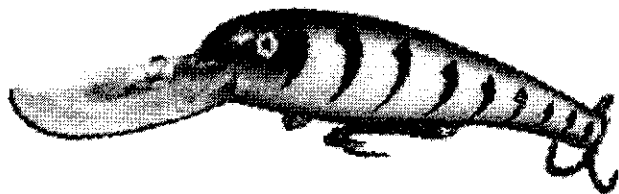

We're called "The Sportfishing Capital of the World." And for good reason.

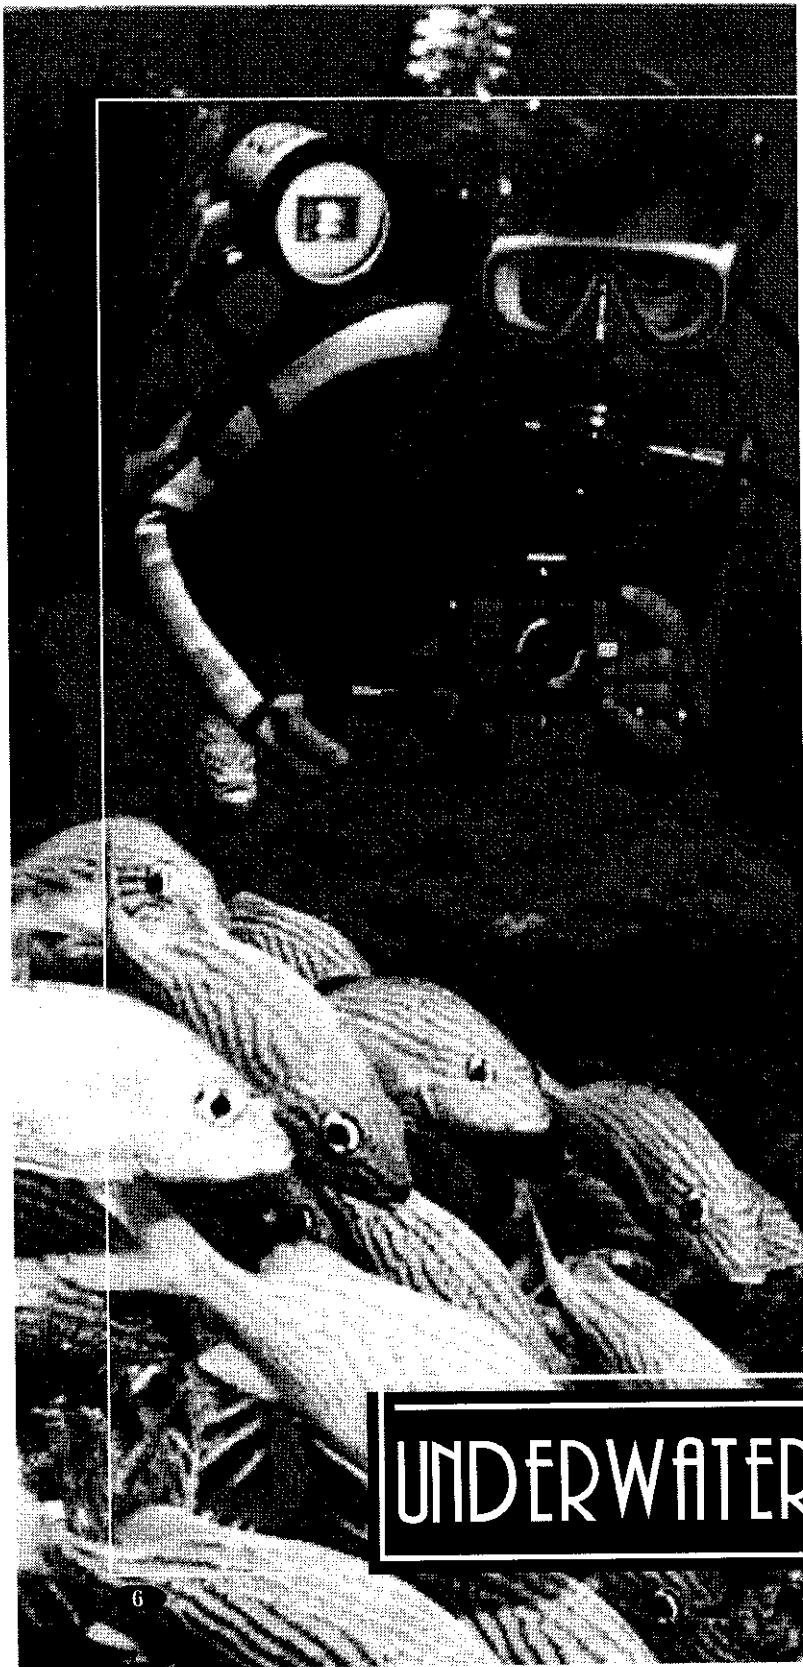

Everyone talks of the celebrities who have come here to fish—politicians, ballplayers, writers and TV personalities. The tales are legendary. Some are even true, like the story of Lou Gehrig's 7'2", 50-pound sailfish. But the true test of our reputation is your own experience. There's plenty of history yet to be made. We invite you to discover why there is nothing anywhere in the world quite like fishing the waters of Islamorada.

You can drop your line in a number of ways. Drift over the only living coral reef on this continent or troll in the deeper waters of the Gulf Stream where sailfish, marlin and tuna abound. Fish "inside" for the valiant silver king tarpon or elusive gray ghost bonefish or in the tranquil reaches of the backcountry for redfish, snook and trout. In fact, we have more than two dozen local fish species. Even our local bridges produce record gamefish and, certainly, delicious table fare.

You'll need a saltwater fishing permit unless you're fishing from land, a pier or a sanctioned bridge. The permits are inexpensive and can be purchased for a few days or a week. Most local bait or boat shops sell fishing permits.

Whether you're seeking tranquility or adventure, let us prove our reputation as the Sportfishing Capital.

Stunning views of unimaginable beauty await those who explore Islamorada's hidden underwater world. Hundreds of varieties of fish inhabit our coastal waters, alongside flowing sea fans, majestic coral formations and myriad other life forms. Divers and snorkelers will find some of the best reef and wreck diving in the world. Our warm waters harbor shallow reef and wreck sites where snorkelers often have access to the same sights as divers – and, best of all, anyone who can swim can snorkel. Wear your swimsuit and sunscreen and leave the rest to dive shops and guides who will provide equipment and a few minutes of instruction before getting you out in the water. Scuba divers must be certified, which takes intensive lessons, written tests and an open-water dive test. If you're not a certified diver, quick courses are available that will get you into shallow water with an instructor. Snuba, which doesn't require certification, is a relatively new way of diving where you're attached to a communal air supply rather than attached to a tank.

CORAL REEF COURTESY

1. Please do not stand on or touch coral. Doing so will harm or even kill it.
2. When diving, maintain proper buoyancy to avoid contact with coral.
3. When visiting the reefs in a boat, use a mooring ball if possible. If not, place your anchor in the sand, not on coral or in patches of grass.
4. Remember, treat sea life with respect and it will respect you.

If you wish to take something home from the reef, please make it a photo. Thank You!

DIRECTIONS

BY AIR: Islamorada is located half way between Miami and Key West – each only an hour and a half away – with regularly scheduled flights and connections from anywhere on most major national and international airlines. Marathon Airport, only half an hour from Islamorada, accepts charter flights and has car rental agents to serve you.

BY LAND: A leisurely drive from Miami. Bypass the traffic of the city of Miami by taking I-95, I-75 or FL-836 to the Florida Turnpike south to the Overseas Highway. Card Sound Road offers an alternate route to Key Largo. The Greyhound Keys Shuttle serves the Florida Keys, Miami Int'l Airport, Marathon airport and Key West airport. 1-800-231-2222.

BY SEA: Sail through America's Caribbean. All channels are well marked. Marinas abound and dock space is readily available.

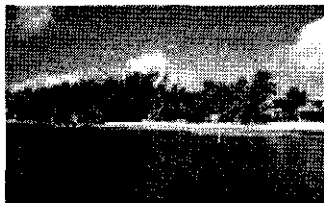

A MARKER FOR EVERY MILE

Down here, the Overseas Highway is like our Main Street. And the best way to get around is to know the mile marker of your destination and whether it's on the oceanside or bayside of U.S. Hwy. 1. These little green signs that dot our highway every mile are like our addresses. If you know the mile marker of where you are going, getting there is easy. Islamorada and neighboring islands cover mile marker 90 south to 65. Mile marker 0 is in Key West.

BURN THIS AD AFTER READING IT

Shhh. Do you want to discover a treasure of a resort so private that even some of the locals don't know where we are? A hideaway that's nestled next to the ocean close to the action but far from the crowds?

Of course, you'd want to keep it all to yourself...

Imagine...

- Your own spotless, secluded villa with kitchen facilities.
- Your own private marina.
- Bone fishing off two private fishing piers.
- Your own private charters for fishing and diving scheduled.
- Your own private sandy beach.
- 50' x 70' beach entry freshwater pool with a Jacuzzi.
- Two Gazebos.

Best of all, rates are affordable. But there are only nine separate villas and five private Caribbean-style one, two & three bedroom homes available, so memorize this information: Mile Marker #82, Oceanside, phone 305.664.2235, fax 664.2093.

109 E. Carroll Street, P.O. Box 1298, Islamorada, Florida 33036.

Then burn this map. A hot tip spreads like wildfire.
